legume-based systems in Europe

Workshop “Legume Innovative Network – Croatian cluster” (LIN workshop)

It is our pleasure to invite You on the first Legume Innovative Network (LIN) workshop held by Public Institution for the Development of the Međimurje County REDEA.

Workshop will be held on November 29th, from 9:00 AM in Technology-innovative center of Međimurje, Bana Josipa Jelačića 22 B, Čakovec (Center of knowledge of Međimurje county).

Workshop is organised as one of the activity within the project “Transition paths to sustainable legume-based systems in Europe” (TRUE) which is financed through Horizon 2020 Program scheme. The main task of this workshop will be on raising awareness about significance of legumes in promotion of sustainable agricultural production as competitive agricultural crops in the Republic of Croatia. Project team will present one of the implemented activities within TRUE project – Croatian case study "Legumes: their potential role in Croatian agricultural production" as well the current results from project implementation.

Members of Legume Inovative Network (LIN) are representatives from primary agricultural production, buyers, processors, scientific community and relevant local institutions.

Workshop goals are:

- Scientific researches and Case study results make more available to primary producers;
- Define most notable advantages and disadvantages of legumes in Croatian agricultural production;
- Define impediments in production and process sector in legumes production;

Participation in workshop is FREE of charge. You can apply: ONLINE, by telephone 040 395 586 or via email nikola.blazon@redea.hr latest on November 29th 2019.
